

The Presbyterian Scouter

<http://www.presbyterianscouters.org>

From the President

It is exciting to hear of the many things that are going on for Scouting.

In some Councils there are Ecumenical Religious Relations groups that have a strong program and have done many things to help foster the P.R.A.Y. God and Country Program. One thing that they do which shows the culmination of the year's activities and rewards the youth that have earned the certificates is to have a Recognition Supper. The Recognition supper has included all groups that sponsor Boy Scout programs, the Girl Scouts, and the Future Farmers. They mostly have been held in churches that have a food staff to keep the cost down. Donated food and money enable the costs to be kept at a minimum for the recipients, parents and minister. One Recognition Dinner was sponsored at no cost. In addition to giving out the certificates they have a humorous speaker for the young people whose message is on a religious theme.

I would like to thank Bob Matchett and Wray Johanning for staffing the Booth at the Association of Church Educators meeting in Denver in February. There were approximately 1000 participants, and they kept Bob and Wray busy supplying information and materials. I know their efforts will help Scouting grow.

Special appreciation to Your Church (Troops, something you can do):

- Russell Fury reported that Troop 752 of First Presbyterian Church, Oceanside, California, cooked a free breakfast for the Church members to express their appreciation of the church supporting the Scout troop. The troop was also celebrating 50 years of existence. Russell said that the breakfast of pancakes, sausage, scrambled eggs and coffee was served after each of the three services, and it was very good. Even though it was free and no donations were sought, many people gave a donation, so it benefited the troop's treasury.
- Troop 326 of Ridglea Presbyterian Church, in Ft. Worth, Texas, in recognition of Scout Sunday, has cooked donuts and coffee for the church members for many years. They setup on the front lawn by the main entrance to do the cooking and also have a model campsite on display.

NAPS has several interesting activities going on this summer and would like to invite you to participate: NAPS will have a booth at the:

General Assembly in Denver, CO, May 24 to May 31

Luncheon – "Scouting in the Church's Ministry" May 27, Adams Mark Hotel

Training Courses at Philmont – this year:
July 6-12 – Scouting in Church Ministry with special Presbyterian Breakout Session
Oct. 27-30 – Course for Presbyterian Leaders and Educators

PROPOSED BYLAWS AMENDMENTS – Last year I asked Russell Fury, Past President who attended the National Meeting, to recommend changes or improvements for NAPS for the future. He met with nine other members at various times in California and submitted several proposed changes to the current bylaws. (Current bylaws may be identified by the words “Revised Edition as of June 29, 1996” and pictures of the medals at the end. The later 1999 amended edition was not adopted by the membership.) The changes proposed by this group have been approved by the Board of Directors and are now being offered to the membership for approval. VOTING WILL BEGIN MAY 1, 2003 AND END JUNE 30, 2003. FOR MEMBERS IN GOOD STANDING (DUES PAID FOR 2003) A BALLOT IS INCLUDED IN THIS NEWSLETTER. MARKED BALLOTS SHOULD BE MAILED DURING THE OPEN VOTING PERIOD IN AN ENVELOPE CONTAINING YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS IN THE RETURN ADDRESS PORTION OF THE ENVELOPE (UPPER LEFT CORNER) TO: JACK SCHRIMSHER, 2401 NW 88TH ST., KANSAS CITY, MO 64154. Eligibility for voting will be verified by the return address on the envelope before the ballot is separated from the envelope for counting. If approved by two-thirds of the members voting, the proposed amendments shall take effect July 1, 2003.

The current Bylaws, including the proposed amendments, are included in this Newsletter. The proposed changes bring NAPS operations into the 21st century and the electronic age and further clarify some current provisions. The most significant change will be the removal of the national officers from membership on the Board of Directors in keeping with the current Presbyterian and corporate methods of doing business. The national officers will instead operate as an executive committee to handle day-to-day operations of NAPS. A Publications Secretary position will be added as an additional national officer. To compensate for national officers no longer being Board members and to facilitate operation of the Executive Committee, the Board will be allowed to meet and conduct business by conference calls and e-mail. The fiscal year will match the calendar year (beginning January 1 instead of July 1). Youth membership eligibility will be clarified to include Scouts fourteen years of age and above. Relevant committee and organizational names will be updated to current official titles. Reference to the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) will be included in recognition of the Covenant Agreement NAPS has with that denomination. (That change will not eliminate any other branches of the Presbyterian Church.)

Proposed Bylaw Changes

Proposed amendments to or changes in the Bylaws of NAPS must have the approval of the Board of Directors before a ballot of the changes is mailed to the membership.

To solve potential problems the Bylaws are being updated, corrections of names and titles are made to clarify and to improve the administration of operations, and to legalize and improve all activities and goals. The relationship between the National Board of Directors and the National Officers is clarified. Special communication plans will be established.

Eugene Foley – Director (856) 964-3184

Our emphasis for the coming months will be on getting to know our Presbyteries. Several of our members are starting campaigns to have local churches identify their Scout leadership and members of their churches who volunteer at Scout units outside the church. Clerks in the various churches are being sent letters with copies of our Adult Religious Award flyers to encourage them, with the assistance of NAPS volunteers, to nominate eligible men and women for recognition.

This effort recognizes that many churches are unaware of the fact that Presbyterian Churches sponsor thousands of Scout Units and that some 150,000 of our youth are members. Recognizing someone in their home church provides tangible evidence of our role in the leadership of the BSA.

At this time of year, many religious Scouting retreats are taking place. Ten Commandment Hikes and religious retreats are an excellent way for our leaders to share in the spiritual development of our youth. You and your church are important in these activities. I do my best each year to participate in the ecumenical spring retreat sponsored by the New Jersey Lutheran Association of Scouters as the chaplain, and in our non-sectarian Ten Commandments Hike in the fall, where we visit ten churches, temples and synagogues. The Presbyterian Church should be represented at these activities. I know that other members participate in these activities and I encourage them to let your NAPS officers know of your successes!

NAPS Represented at GIDDINGS - LOVEJOY Presbytery Meeting

Wray and Diana Johanning and new NAPS member Ed Acheson went to First Presbyterian Church of Edwardsville Ill. to represent NAPS at the March meeting of the Giddings - Lovejoy Presbytery. Giddings - Lovejoy covers the Greater St. Louis Area Southeastern Missouri and Southwestern Illinois. We had the NAPS Booth which drew a great deal of positive attention. We also had 2 minutes in front of the assembled Presbytery to tell the NAPS story. We had nothing but positive comments about Scouting and the God and Country Program. It was so positive it was suggested that we make a return visit in the future. Plans have been set in motion to get this done in the fall in St. Louis when attendance at Presbytery is at its highest. Just as a note one of the Pastors of a Church that does not have Scouting is going to call me this week to set an appointment to get them started in Scouting.

The only negative of the day was the most frequently comment, “We didn’t know you (NAPS) existed” this comment was not made as a negative, but an honest observation. But to us it was negative, because it indicated we are doing a poor job of letting people know who NAPS is and what NAPS does. Our message is a good one and the word needs to be spread. (ed note: I would like to see more presentations and our presence felt at many more Presbyteries. So in the future we don't hear "We didn't know you existed") We were so positively received at Presbytery that I feel strongly that a Covenant between NAPS and Giddings - Lovejoy will be secured in the near future.

St. Mark Presbyterian Church Presents 22 God and Country Awards

St. Mark Presbyterian Church in Ballwin, Missouri presented 14 God and Me Awards, 7 God and Family Awards and 1 God and Church Award at Sunday worship services February 23rd this year. This followed 4 weeks of classroom instruction for the God and Me Class, 6 weeks of instruction for the God and Family Award and 10 months of individual study and working with a counselor for the God and Church Award. We had the services of two excellent lay instructors in God and Me and God and Family (not staff).

St. Mark God and Country Program is truly ecumenical, half the youth attending the Program were not Presbyterian (including other Protestant Faiths, Roman Catholic and Greek Orthodox). We do ask that the parents of non Presbyterians obtain permission to attend from their Clergy or religious leader. We have in the past had non churched youth in our classes; this was their first experience with Christ. Since we require parental participation, it has, we hope, instilled in the parent at the least a desire to rediscover the Church.

The new curriculum from PRAY for the God and Me and God and Family Programs got nothing but praise from both the youth "Because it is Fun" and the instructors "this is the most complete curriculum I have ever presented; I didn't have to add to it".

St. Mark has had a very active God and Country Program over the past 4 years and has average 20 youth Awards a year.

Lakes and Prairies Region

David L. Moore – Director (612-922-4988)

Randy Yates of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Omaha, Nebraska, reported on a successful Scout Sunday program. Randy worked with 23 youth in completing religious awards and had four leaders recognized with adult religious awards. Randy is very active with the District, Council and his church.

South Atlantic Region

Stephen J. Taylor (864) 579-8607

In the South Atlantic Region of South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida we have recruited some new members onto the Regional Committee. Recently the Regional Secretary (Neal Stanford –from the Atlanta Area Council) and I met in my office to confer on strategies for the coming year. As a result we are sending a letter to all Scout Executives in our three states to encourage them to recruit a Presbyterian onto their

Council Relationships Committee, to invite Presbyterian Church representatives to the upcoming News Unit Videoconference for the purpose of organizing new units in our denomination's churches, and to promote the God/Country series. We are very close to securing a Regional Chaplain as well.

Southwest Region

John Forrest – Director (602-841-9194)

The Grand Canyon Council Interfaith Religious Recognition Committee held its annual recognition ceremony on February 8. This event recognizes those Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Campfire youth who earned their religious award the previous year. About 200 youth participated. A special patch was awarded by the council to each youth attending the ceremony.

John Forrest attended the presentation of the God and Service Award to Marjorie Pomp at Pinnacle Presbytery Church at a service on 9 February. He had visited a Troop 133 Court of Honor about two years ago and left a copy of the award application form with one of the senior leaders. She called a month ago to tell him that the seed which was sown had borne fruit.

Living Waters Region

Hawley Heglar – Director

Hawley first joined Scouting as a Cub Scout in 1967 and earned his Arrow of Light. He continued on into Boy Scouts becoming an Eagle Scout and a Brotherhood member of the Order of the Arrow. He worked on the staff of Camp John J. Barnhardt in the Central North Carolina Council. He received his BA in Business Management from NCSU in 1980.

Hawley is married to the former Cynthia Craddock and has two children. Jennifer is a freshman at Tusculum College in Greenville, TN, and Dan is a freshman at Tennessee High School and is an Eagle Scout. Cynthia is an elementary school teacher.

Hawley has served both as a Cubmaster and Scoutmaster, has earned the Cub Scouter Award, the Pioneer Award (District Award of Merit), The God and Service Award, the National Scoutmasters Award, and has completed the Course for the Wood Badge. He has served on the staff of many varied District and Council events. In addition to his Scouting activities, Hawley served as PTA Secretary and Council Treasurer, is a Board Member for the Kiwanis of Bristol as well as the Cedar Valley Swim and Tennis Club. He is a past Ambassador for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, a member of the NCSU Alumni Association, serves as a substitute Sunday School teacher and participates in his church's LOGO'S youth program.

Southern California and Hawaii

Peter Van Dyken – Director (661) 724-1022

Peter Van Dyken has been very active supporting NAPS for many years at Scout, Synod and Presbytery levels. Some of the examples include attending the Synod of Southern California and Hawaii Stewardship and Mission rally with a display and banners; he also handed out P.R.A.Y. and Scouting material. He attended the Los Angeles Area Council Interfaith Banquet that honored all Scouts that received a religious emblem that year. In addition to Peter and the Youth Director of Hollywood Presbyterian Church presented each Presbyterian Scout a special certificate and a religious emblem knot. Peter reported that the idea of honoring a Scout who earned the religious emblem came from a retired Presbyterian Minister, Rev. B. D. Hughes. The first banquet was February 13, 1973.

Peter and NAPS member, Paul Anderson, attend the Desert Pacific (San Diego) Council Scout fair and the Los Angeles Council Scout-A-Rama to promote the Religious emblems with a nice display and with literature.

Trinity Region

David Gringas – Director (610) 299-4863

The best way to get more Presbyterian Churches to sponsor Boy Scouts of America units is to get the Ministers recruiting each other. We (NAPS) have the lists of all of the Presbyterian Churches in our Council. The Professional and Commissioner staffs know where we have chartered partners.

We should annually cross-reference the lists to determine areas we are not servicing Youth as much as possible. The list of potential new Presbyterian Churches should be reviewed by the Council Commissioner staff and the Scout Executive staff to assess the situation and determine that there is a need for an additional unit or family of units.

Every Presbyterian Church that does not presently sponsor BSA units is a potential new sponsor. Once a Presbyterian Church is identified as a potential Sponsor the other Presbyterian Ministers who do sponsor units should be brought together. If the other local Presbyterian Ministers agree that there is a need they should be recruited to approach the potential Presbyterian Church sponsor through their Minister.

The key is to have the Minister recruit the Minister and answer any questions their counterpart Minister may have. Many of the Churches without units have not been asked to sponsor BSA units before. If there are objections they will hopefully come up when the Ministers are talking to each other. However, in many cases the Ministers will tell you that the biggest reason for not starting scouting units is because nobody ever asked me/us! Please try this method and provide details on your experiences.

NAPS Member Leads Christian Worship at World Jamboree

Every four years, the World Organization of the Scouting Movement provides youth from around the world with a chance to meet one another. This year, the 20th World Scout Jamboree was held in Sattahip, Thailand from late December to early January. The warm climate and beautiful beach made this one of the most memorable Scouting events ever to take place.

These events are staffed by an international contingent, bringing together the talents of thousands of men and women from all walks of life. Our own Eugene Foley, Northeast Region Director of NAPS was assigned to the Spiritual and Religious Activities Division at the Jamboree and was the senior Protestant member of the staff.

In that role, Foley provided chaplaincy service to the International Service Team and contingents that did not have their own chaplains. He also lead a variety of worship services including the Protestant services for Christmas, New Years and the two Sundays during which staff and participants were at the Jamboree. Foley had a staff of eight volunteers from around the world that assisted in Prayer Valley, a refuge for those seeking a spiritual moment during the hustle and bustle of the larger event. These volunteers served side-by-side with more than twenty Thai staff members to provide for a variety of worship services and displays in the Valley. It is estimated that Prayer Valley saw well over 18,000 staff, participants and visitors. According to Foley, "My work, and the work of my staff, was to show the variety of Protestant traditions in the best light. The majority of people we met were Buddhist or from other non-Christian traditions. They were full of questions, and we were there to do our best to answer them." Foley, who has served as chaplain at the Florida National Sea Base and as Chaplain Coordinator at Philmont Scout Ranch, has been a part of the NAPS exhibit team at the last two National Jamborees at Fort A. P. Hill in Virginia.

NAPS Represented at APCE

By Wray Johanning

Association of Presbyterian Christian Educators held their annual 2003 convention at the Adam-Marks Hotel in Denver, Colorado January 28th through February 1st. There were approximately 1000 Christian Educators, Resource Persons and Pastors in attendance, representing all 50 states and Canada. NAPS' reason for being at APEC was to familiarize members of our purposes. Our basic message was that Scouting enhances both Christian Education through God and Country Programs and Outreach through the Scouting Programs. Just as a side note the new syllabus for the God and Me Program and the God and Family Program were a big hit. The new format created quite a bit of interest and excitement. The NAPS Booth was at the convention and was manned by Bob Machett of Denver and Wray Johanning of Ballwin, Missouri. One thing that set our booth apart from the rest was we were in Scout Uniform when the booth was open. They both noted when the God and Service Award and the Celtic Cross Award were discussed you could see lights come on in the eyes of the attendees and comments like "I know just the person in our church that deserves this award". NAPS' response was "Why not give it to them" and provided an application.

Both Bob and Wray mentioned that the uniform drew positive comments both in and out of the booth. Most frequently heard were "My son is an Eagle Scout or my Grandson is a Cub Scout and just finished the Pine Wood Derby and he won a prize.

Both felt they had a successful convention.

Your Electronic Newsletter

As with so many other things in this time the cost of publishing your NAPS newsletter continues to climb. Postage and duplication costs have been some of the reasons that we recently saw the first increase in our annual dues ever. In an effort to help reduce our costs I would like to offer to those of you with e-mail connectivity an opportunity to receive your quarterly NAPS newsletter electronically. To do this we obviously will need a copy of your email address. I know that many of you are concerned about yet another organization having your e-mail address and the potential for abuse. I can assure you that we will neither sell our mailing list nor make it available to any other organization. One obvious benefit to this offer, in addition to having a non-mangled copy of the newsletter is that it will arrive several days in advance of the postal version and will be in color. If you would like to take advantage of this offer, please forward your preferred e-mail address to your Publications Secretary at brer_rabbit10@msn.com.
